DETAILED ACTION

Claims 22 and 23 recite "use of" which are directed to non-statutory inventions under 35 U.S.C. 101. For purposes of restriction, these claims (claims 22 and 23) will be read as an assay for measuring activation of estrogen receptor.

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-19, drawn to an estrogen receptor gene, an estrogen receptor encoded by said gene, a vector comprising said gene, a transformant, a method for producing said transformant and a method for manufacturing an estrogen receptor.

Group II, claim(s) 20, drawn to a method of evaluating the ability of a test substance to regulate estrogen receptor activity.

Group III, claim(s) 21, drawn to a receptor binding assay

Group IV, claim(s) 22-23, drawn to a two-hybrid system assay

The inventions listed as Groups I -IV do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

37 CFR 1.475 states: The expression "special technical features" shall mean those technical features that define a contribution which each of the claimed inventions, considered as a whole, makes over the prior art. The first claim of the first claimed invention is drawn to numerous nucleotide sequences, each coding an amino acid sequence comprising a polypeptide of unique structural and functional characteristics. Since the first claimed invention does not recite a single special technical feature, it cannot share a special technical feature with the Inventions of Groups II-IV.

Species Election I

If any of Inventions I, II or IV are elected, the following election of species is required:

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species: Sequences. Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species, A-C, for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The species are independent or distinct because each sequence represents nucleotide sequence encoding an amino acid structure of unique functional characteristics.

A. Nucleotide sequence of nucleotide numbers 424-1941 of SEQ ID NO:2 encoding an amino acid sequence of SEQ ID NO:1

B. Nucleotide sequence of nucleotide numbers 74-1819 of SEQ ID NO:5 encoding an amino acid sequence of SEQ ID NO:4

C. Nucleotide sequence of nucleotide numbers 106-1767 of SEQ ID NO:24 encoding an amino acid sequence of SEQ ID NO:23

Currently, no claims are generic to Inventions I, II or IV.

Species Election II

If Invention III is elected, the following election of species is required:

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species: Amino Acid Sequences. Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species, 1-3, for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The species are independent or distinct because each sequence represents an amino acid structure of unique functional characteristics.

1. SEQ ID NO:1
2. SEQ ID NO:4
3. SEQ ID NO:23

Currently, no claims are generic to Invention III.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

Art Unit: 1647

The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder. All claims directed to a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.
